August 21, 1926.

MEMORANDUM

Miss Sally Peters, at the time of my talk with her on August 18th, 1926, suggested that a Miss Emma Brigbee, formerly of the New York Tribune and who was the first reporter representing the Metropolitan newspapers to visit the scene of the murders, might be in a position to give helpful information.

Miss Peters further states that opposite her home at Craagmore there lives a Mr. McKinney, a Rutgers professor, who has been circulating the rumor that there was a house on or near the Philips Farm maintained by Harry Carpenter for the use of New Brunswick businessmen, the implication being that it was used for immoral purposes. Miss Peters says that such rumors as these are false and based on no facts whatsoever and have created a prejudicial sentiment.
